Primary Exempt Purpose

Primary Exempt Purpose

SpectorDance's mission is "To Create and Present Dance that Makes a Difference!" Everything we do-whether creative, pedagogical, community-oriented, or even managerial-serves this greater purpose. This mission uniquely defines all our work. Our vision is "A world where everyone is connected, informed, and inspired through the beauty and power of dance." We live in a world that has become divided in many ways: wealthy and poor, urban and rural, politically progressive and conservative, educated and uneducated. We see dance, grounded in the human body we all share, as a means of coming together communally. Moreover, we see dance as a vehicle for education and enlightenment. It can convey the truth amid the flurry of falsehoods. Finally, dance is not passive-for the audience as well as the dancer. Dance at its best can inform, build deep empathy, motivate and inspire action, and transform both participants and viewers. It is not just contemplation or artistic pleasure.

First Program Service Accomplishments Description

Description

accompanied by a live chorus. In May 2022, Spector Atkins created a work-in-progress showing of Wildfires, a new performance and engagement project inspired by filmed interviews with Tom Little Bear Nason, Tribal Chief of the Esselen Tribe of Monterey County, Jaime Tuitele-Lewis, a scientist from the Resource Conservation District of Monterey County, and Elliott Maiorana, a Monterey County firefighter. When complete, Wildfires will bring together scientific and Indigenous knowledge about trees, forests and the land to address the increasing prevalence and severity of forest fires. It will honor the past and celebrate our diverse community. It will embrace the destructive as well as the regenerative power of fire. It will bring forward new perspectives on the forest-ones imbued with reverence, reciprocity, responsibility, respect and resilience. The Ocean Trilogy Project: From January to March and from September to November 2023, SpectorDance will create the Ocean Trilogy Project, a new performance and engagement program at Hartnell College. This project will offer a series of creative movement workshops that explore how dance can express ocean science, heighten awareness as promote conversation. The workshops will culminate in a live performance by SpectorDance Company for Hartnell College students and faculty. We aim to use this project as a template for other schools. It is a way to employ art to expand understanding of ocean health and inspire ocean stewardship.
